

FRESHMEN DEFEATED BY WILLISTON, 13-0

Peterson Runs Fifty-Five Yards to Touchdown After Intercepting Pass

OFFENSE WEAK

Trinity Eleven Unable to Gain Against Heavier Rivals; Sinclair Outstanding

The Trinity freshman football team lost its first game of the season to Williston Academy last Saturday by a score of 13 to 0. The freshmen put up a stubborn defense against a heavier and more experienced team, and did well in holding their opponents to two touchdowns.

A long run by Todd shortly after the opening kickoff gave the visitors their first chance to score. Trinity refused to give way at this point, and an attempt at a field goal was blocked. Winans then kicked out of danger from his 15-yard line, but the ball was again placed inside the freshman 10-yard stripe on two long runs by Czelusniak and Todd. At this time Williston again tried a goal from the field, which missed by a narrow margin.

Toward the end of the second quarter, Geare intercepted a Williston pass and raced to his opponents' 25-yard line. Unable to gain through the line, Sinclair dropped back to pass, but Peterson broke through to intercept it and raced half the length of the field for the first score. The try for the extra point failed.

Again in the closing minutes of the third period, Williston advanced steadily to the Trinity two-yard line. Czelusniak then took the ball over on a short plunge, Todd scoring the extra point. The freshmen made a concerted effort to score in the last quarter, but were stopped after reaching the Williston 30-yard line.

Trinity appeared very weak offensively, but showed a fairly strong defense. Sinclair stood out as the best player on the field for the freshmen, gaining consistently and backing up the line well with his accurate tackling. Scott, Heimer and Droegge (Continued on page 4.)

TEN ELECTED TO GERMAN CLUB AT FIRST MEETING

Social Organization Chooses Six Sophomores and Four Juniors

At the first meeting of the German Club held last Tuesday night, October 11, an election was held to choose new members. This year ten men were elected, swelling the ranks of the organization to twenty-five members. The new delegation comprises W. Angus, Haring, Heyel, Kellam, McCook, A. H. Onderdonk, A. Shaw, B. Shaw, Voorhees, and Webber.

According to custom no officers were elected, the Seniors presiding over the meeting. Aside from the choosing of new members, no matters regarding the coming year's activities were definitely discussed or planned. The Club, however, intends to hold a dinner some time in November, although at present both time and place are indefinite. A tea dance is scheduled to be held later in the year. It will be remembered that last year the German Club in conjunction with St. Anthony Hall gave a tea dance. No date has been set for the next meeting of the Club.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR PLEADS WORLD PEACE

Sir William Cecil, Lord Bishop of Exeter, Presents Talk to Undergraduates

Sir William Cecil, Lord Bishop of Exeter, spoke to a large group of undergraduates and faculty members assembled in the Public Speaking Room on Tuesday morning, October 11. His talk was a plea for world peace, a warning of the horrorbleness of any future war, and a fervent hope for amity among races.

Sir William first spoke of the early civilizations of Greece and Rome, China and India, and likened them to the great ones of our day. Of these great eras of the past we have but history, and if we are to continue our civilization we must, warned the speaker, strive for international friendship and understanding. Our present-day civilization is in greater danger than were the others, for now there is more advancement in the methods and means of warfare.

Only the great doctrine of Love spread abroad among the nations, concluded the speaker, will end war forever. We must not ask ourselves, "What will Mrs. Grundy say?" or hesitate in any way to further the cause of world peace. We must endeavor to build up friendship and understanding among nations, and in this way make it impossible for another war to ever occur.

JESTERS SELECT PLAY FOR FALL PRODUCTION

"March Hares" to be Given Early in December Under Direction of Mr. Helmbold

POSITIONS OPEN

Tryouts Held This Week to Fill Four Male and Five Female Parts

The Jesters, Trinity's dramatic association, assembled for its second meeting this fall at the Delta Phi House on Wednesday, October 12, at 5 o'clock. Various plays were submitted for approval by a committee appointed at a meeting on the previous Wednesday. From this new material, "March Hares", a comedy, was chosen to be the Jesters' first production of the season in place of "The Play's the Thing", which had previously been considered. "March Hares" will be coached by Mr. Helmbold, of the Greek Department, and staged by Andrew Onderdonk, with the assistance of the Fine Arts Department. The presentation will take place in Alumni Hall, probably on December 2.

It was decided that tryouts for the five female and four male roles would take place on Monday and Tuesday, October 17 and 18. All men are eligible to try out for parts, and should consult William Sisbower, President of the Jesters. Applications for jobs backstage, and for positions on the business board will also be considered this week. This is an opportunity for Freshmen as well as upper classmen.

Last year the Jesters presented "The Circle", a social comedy, and "Wings Over Europe", a spectacular tragedy, both of which met with splendid success. Unlike last year's productions, "March Hares" is a light comedy, the first play of this nature to be staged by the Jesters in four years. It was chosen because it will appeal to the students.

To become a Junior Jester, a student must take a small part in a play. Not until a Junior Jester has acted one major part and one or more minor parts, of which the value and the acting ability are considered, does he become a Senior Jester. If, however, a Junior Jester has taken three minor parts, which prove conclusively that he has dramatic talent, he may become a Senior Jester. Every Senior Jester receives a charm which admits him to all future Jester productions.

BLUE AND GOLD ROUTS NEW YORK AGGIES BY OVERWHELMING SCORE OF 48-0

SENIOR CLASS ELECTS T. C. JONES PRESIDENT

Breck Armstrong Chosen Vice-President; Harry Oxford, Secretary-Treasurer

A meeting of the Senior class was called at 1 o'clock, Wednesday, October 12, for the purpose of electing officers.

Thad Jones was elected president of the class. He is a member of the Senate, President of the Political Science Club, manager of baseball, member of the football team, Medusa, Sophomore Dining Club and of Alpha Delta Phi fraternity.

The vice-presidency was voted to Breck Armstrong, who has been a member of the football and basketball teams for three years, of Kappa Beta Phi Society, and of Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Harry Oxford was elected secretary-treasurer. He is a member of the Jesters, Glee Club, the 1933 "Ivy" Board; and head of the Trinity Chapter of Delta Phi fraternity.

One of the problems discussed at the meeting was that of making up the financial deficit of the class through the collection of dues. The meeting was attended only by seniors who had paid these dues, numbering about twenty-five.

SIGMA NU GIVES ANNUAL SMOKER FOR FRESHMEN

Talks Given by Major Sports Captains and Dr. Ogilby; Refreshments Served

The pledgees of the fraternities were entertained at the Sigma Nu house Friday evening, October 14. John Zierdt, president of the Sigma Nu pledgees, greeted the men present, and introduced J. Jack Sharkey, head of the house, who stated that the Sigma Nu's were trying to encourage better inter-fraternity feeling, and they felt that if the pledgees were better acquainted with each other this would be accomplished.

Mr. Zierdt then presented John Campion, captain of the football team, David Swanson, track captain, and George Bockwinkel, baseball captain. These men gave short talks on the prospects of their respective sports.

President Ogilby gave an informal address on the advisability of believing the veracity of all the statements made by an instructor. The best attitude, he said, is that of searching for the truth; the worst is that of the yes-man, who agrees without thinking to everything the professor says. To show that teachers have disliked this attitude for many years, he read from a four-hundred-year-old mathematics book, the author of which stated that a good student believes only those facts which his teacher can prove.

Dr. Sweet, an alumnus of Trinity, who is a doctor in Hartford, told the men that it is now impossible for the alumni to say that the college isn't as good as it used to be. Trinity, he declared, is better than ever before, with its new buildings and the fine type of men being admitted.

Herbert Todd, a Sigma Nu pledgee, gave an interesting exhibition of magic, and then cider and doughnuts were served.

Trinity Piles Up Seven Touchdowns in First Win of Current Campaign

TEAM WORK STRESSED

Armstrong, Sampers, Brewer and L. Wadlow Cross Goal in Scoring Carnival

Crushing the New York Aggies eleven by a 48 to 0 score last Saturday, a brilliant Trinity team chalked up one of the most impressive victories ever recorded on Trinity Field. Coach Dan Jessee's powerful grid machine, with the backfield and line synchronizing almost flawlessly, fashioned no less than seven touchdowns. Armstrong, Sampers and Brewer crossed the Aggie goal line twice and L. Wadlow once. Armstrong, kicking with deadly precision, converted six straight extra points after missing his first try.

Trinity pushed over three touchdowns in the first period. Armstrong made the first score from the three-yard line after he had made a beautiful 30-yard run following the catch of a pass from Sampers on the previous play. The other two touchdowns were made by Brewer and Sampers. Brewer tallied on a 61-yard jaunt for the longest single gain of the day, while Sampers plunged over from the one-yard mark after he and Brewer had brought the ball into scoring position. In the third quarter the Blue and Gold again scored thrice. L. Wadlow went across from the three-yard stripe after receiving a lateral pass. Brewer scored on a line plunge and Armstrong crossed the line as the climax of a 40-yard run-back of a punt. The last touchdown came midway in the final (Continued on page 3.)

PROF. HUMPHREY SPEAKS AT WEDNESDAY CHAPEL

Gives Interesting Talk to Students on Life of Columbus

Almost the entire student body attended the Chapel service, held on October 14, when Professor Humphrey spoke on "Columbus." The service was opened with the hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers", and the reading of the sixty-sixth psalm.

After a brief choral interlude, Professor E. F. Humphrey addressed the assemblage, bringing out the fact that there were certain misconceptions surrounding the story of Columbus. Contrary to general opinion, the explorer was greatly aided rather than hindered by the Church in his voyage of discovery. Indeed, one of the main objectives of the expedition was to spread Christianity in new lands with the help of the clergy.

Although Columbus died in prison, he was by no means penniless. Professor Humphrey quoted certain sections of the will left by Columbus, which prove that Columbus died a wealthy man, for he bequeathed large sums to his sons with the stipulation that the money be spent for the betterment of the Church.

In concluding his Columbus Day address, Professor Humphrey asked that Columbus be regarded in his true light—as a man whose life was devoted to Christian endeavor.

WHO FAVORS THE CHARGE OF THIRTY DOLLARS?

We are fighting a sham battle against the thirty dollar charge for extra courses unless those who favor the rule will come into the open and out of the silence. We have repeatedly voiced our arguments opposing the rule, but our opponents, the Faculty, refuse to commit their arguments favoring the adoption of the charge they instituted last September.

Our editorials can be sound, reasonable and courteous only when our opponents will show themselves and meet student criticism on common ground. We offer common ground in our columns. Do the Faculty really favor their plan of limited, liberal education? If so, why? If not, they should admit their error. All respect will be due them, if a compromise can be reached.

Such excuses as we have offered for the Faculty rule—such as elimination of three-year students, fewer courses elected and dropped and increasing the financial income—have been the result of our own reasoning on the subject. The Faculty have offered no excuses for the adoption or support of their rule.

Nor are the students to be excused. They are all grumbling and complaining about the charge. They acclaim our stand, but make no effort to write us to that effect for publication.

It would seem that the fight is being carried on in ambush. We must make reasonable decisions about the rule and such decisions can only be reached without "pussy-footed" action on the part of the contestants.

BOOK REVIEW

THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND:
A Constitutional Study, by Charles James Rohr, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of History, Trinity College, Hartford, Conn. Johns Hopkins Press. $1.50 and $2.00.

This book of 170 odd pages is the third of a series which is listed under the Johns Hopkins University Studies in Historical and Political Science. It traces Maryland's Executive Office through its historical development to its present status, including the present powers of the governor's office. Even though it is a study of the institution and not of the human beings which occupy the office, and brings out very few personalities, it is a connected narrative throughout.

The contents are: The Colonial Executive of Maryland; the Evolution of the Governor's Position in the Constitutions of 1776, 1851, and 1864; the Constitution of 1867; the Governor as Chief Executive of Maryland; the Relations of the Governor to the General Assembly; Summary and Conclusions; Bibliography; and Table of Cases.

These few words by Dr. Rohr, along with the fact that he is a native of Maryland, might help to clarify his object in selecting this topic for his new book.

"The governor in the American state has become the central figure in state politics and in the state government as a whole. He is no longer the nonentity or subordinate of the legislature as he was in the first state constitutions. Every succeeding major constitutional alteration or revision has succeeded in granting to him powers of a high order. Yesterday, the state legislature occupied the position of power; today, the governor has taken its place.

"The story of the evolution of the governor's office during the nineteenth century, the shift of popular interest to it from the representative body, has been narrated by many authorities; but those writers have made general studies of the office. Very few have restricted themselves to any particular state."

At present we hear a great deal concerning budgets. In his treatment of Maryland's budget system Dr. Rohr tells about the budget system which is being taken up by other states more and more, mostly as a reform measure.

"The power over the 'purse' for a long time has been regarded as the sole prerogative of the representative body and, subject to the executive veto, the governor has had little control over state finances. However, in a number of American states within recent years, the governor has been given a part in the exercise of this power chiefly through his function in the preparation and passage of the budget. In 1916, Maryland was the first state in the Union to adopt the 'executive' budget and to incorporate it as an integral part of the constitution."

In concluding Dr. Rohr says:

"Thus, the increase in the power of the governor does not mean the breakdown of representative government in Maryland. The governor has become the central and most powerful figure in the State, but he is still responsible to the people at the polls or to their representatives in the state legislature. The General Assembly has allowed the governor to have almost absolute control over the administration and, to some extent, to have the initiative in law-making; but it has not totally ceded away the powers given it by the constitution. It may withdraw them to itself whenever it might be so inclined."

Dr. Rohr's volume will be unusually valuable for the student as a reference book. It is pregnant with footnotes and important references that will be extremely helpful to all students of American Government. All technicalities concerning the office of Maryland's Chief Executive are dealt with thoroughly.

His fluent style makes his book much more readable than the ordinary run of reference books. He has been completely successful in presenting a difficult subject in a lucid and interesting manner.

Athenaeum

The Athenaeum Society held its second meeting of the current year in the English room at 7.30 p.m., Monday, October 10. Mr. Rex Howard, the president of the organization, after extending a hearty welcome to all of the visitors and prospective members who attended, introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Frederick Senf, '35. Mr. Senf gave an informal talk concerning the books of the Old Testament. His treatment of the theme that old religious stories are compatible with modern scientific knowledge was enthusiastically received.

Following the address, plans for coming meetings were discussed. It was decided that a debate open to the student body and held in the Public Speaking room should supplant the regular meeting next week. The topic for the debate is, "Resolved, That Permanent World Peace is Possible." The affirmative side will be upheld by Mr. J. Cosgrove, Mr. R. Ohanesian, and Mr. A. Stewart, negative, by Mr. J. Grant, Mr. F. Senf, and Mr. C. Sutherland.

All students desiring immediate admission to the Athenaeum will be expected to deliver three-minute speeches before the society on the evening of October 24. Any student, however, who is interested in the work of the organization, whether he intends to join the society now or later, is cordially invited to attend the organization's activities. It is hoped that upper classmen will avail themselves of this privilege and show increased interest in the organization.

TRINITY WINS.

period, Sampers stepping over after taking a low pass from Armstrong.

First Quarter.

The Blue and Gold virtually swept the Long Islanders off their feet in the very first quarter. Shortly after the opening kick-off Sampers plunged off right tackle for 12 yards and a first down. Brewer ploughed through the same tackle for three more yards and Sampers made it another first down on the Aggie 38-yard marker with an 11-yard gain. Offside gave Trinity five more yards. Then Armstrong, taking a flat pass over the scrimmage line from Sampers, carried the ball 30 yards to the three-yard stripe where he was driven out of bounds. On the next play Armstrong shot around guard for the touchdown. He missed the try for point and Trinity led 6 to 0. Play had hardly resumed when another Blue and Gold score resulted. Gallaway ran back the kick-off to the Trinity 30-yard line. On the first play Brewer, behind almost perfect interference, dashed 61 yards for a second touchdown. This time Armstrong made good on the extra point kick and Trinity led 13 to 0.

Armstrong kicked off and Stelmakov, after running the ball back to his own 32-yard stripe, fumbled. Trinity recovered and launched its third successful drive of the quarter. Sampers and Brewer, alternating on straight line plunges, advanced the pigskin to the one-yard line. Sampers easily went over from this point and the score rose to 20 to 0 when Armstrong's placement was good. Eisenhower took Alexander's kick-off to the 28-yard line where he slipped. Amport and Maher smeared two plays and Stelmakov punted. Sampers made six yards through center and Alexander battered his way through the wavering Green line for a first down. Alexander drove through for another first down as the period ended.

Second Quarter.

The second quarter found the Trinity offense stopped only by frequent fumbling and several heavy penalties. After Trinity had lost the ball on downs, Eisenhower made five yards around left end. A five-yard off-side penalty gave the New Yorkers their initial first down. Maher stopped Stelmakov on the line of scrimmage. The Aggies punted and Sampers made Coyle upset Proft two yards back. A pretty 20-yard sally only to have Trinity penalized 15 yards on the play. Reitzes, Aggie end, picked up a fumble by Alexander on the Trinity 27-yard line. Beatty's pass went into the end zone soon after, however, and it was Trinity's ball on her own 20-yard mark. Another fumble put the New Yorkers within scoring distance by giving them the ball on the Trinity 15-yard line. Beatty, making the visitors' only real gain of the game, carried the ball 11 yards to the four-yard line for first down. The Blue and Gold line stiffened and Hanaghan and Weber combined to break up several plays and give Trinity the ball on downs. Armstrong, with several pretty runs, returned the ball to mid-field. Another 15-yard penalty set Trinity back and Armstrong punted. Beatty and Stelmakov made a few small gains but the fast-charging Blue and Gold linemen were doing yeomen work and the half ended still 20 to 0 when Coyle tossed Beatty for a slight loss.

Third Quarter.

In the third quarter the Trinity score again began to mount. Sampers and Brewer, relying on power plays, moved the ball up to the four-yard stripe. L. Wadlow then took a lateral pass and stepped over the line for the score. Armstrong's kick, deflected by one of the posts, was successful and the score-board read 27 to 0. A short while after Hanaghan blocked an attempted kick and L. Wadlow, snatching the ball, went to the Aggie 23-yard line. On the first play Armstrong skirted left end for 20 yards and a first down three yards from the goal line. Armstrong made two more yards and Brewer plunged the remaining distance for his second score and Trinity's fifth touchdown. Armstrong converted and it was now 34 to 0. Coach Jessee then inserted almost a complete new team, but even this failed to stop Trinity. Haring, big Blue and Gold tackle, pulled down Armstrong's pass on the 26-yard line for a gain of nearly 19 yards and the Trinity attack was once more in motion. Brewer made it a first down with three line smashes. Armstrong sped to the 9-yard line. Eigenbauer made two more yards. With their backs to the wall the New York boys for once held gamely and Trinity lost possession on downs. Stelmakov kicked from behind his own goal line. Armstrong, benefited materially by a rapidly forming interference, dashed 40 yards back and across the last white chalk mark and when he again made good his try for point the score went up to 41 to 0.

Fourth Quarter.

Early in the last session the New York eleven had the ball for a short while but could gain no ground. Hanaghan and Maher, sophomore stars, were constantly checking the Green attack before it was fairly started and Smith finally was forced to kick out of danger. At this point the Blue and Gold rushed over their seventh score. A long forward, Alexander to Weber, netted 24 yards and gave Trinity a first down on the 26-yard stripe. Eigenbauer, on a lateral, went around end for 11 more yards. Armstrong shot a low forward to Sampers and the latter, making a sensational shoe-string catch, stepped five yards for the final touchdown of the fray. Armstrong made it six out of seven with a clean placement and Trinity had amassed 48 to 0 for the New York Aggies. Weber, on another lateral, made 10 yards and a first down. Smiley smashed through guard for two more yards. Eigenbauer broke free for a 20-yard gain after receiving a lateral pass just as the game ended.

SENATE PETITIONS TO HOLD DANCE THIS FALL

Allows Hop Committee $400
for Expenses—"Ivy" Debt Discussed

The second meeting of the Senate was held in the lounge of Cook Hall on Monday, October 10, 1932, at 7.30 o'clock. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Thad Jones. Those present were Edward Paige, president of the student body, Winston Hall, Thad Jones, Jack Leo, J. Jack Sharkey, Charles Sheafe and Edward Sivaslian. Barclay Shaw, chairman of the Sophomore Hop, and B. H. Perry, head of the College Union, were also present. The main problems discussed were the Sophomore Hop, equipment in the Union, the report on the financial standing of the 1933 "Ivy", and a College dance.

Shaw reported on the cost of the Sophomore Hop, which will be held on Friday, November 4, in Alumni Hall. The cost will be approximately $400 and a detailed account of the expenses will be presented at the next meeting. The price per couple will be $3.50 for Sophomores who have not paid their dues and a dollar less for those who have. On the grounds that the class of 1935 has $147 in its treasury, it was decided to allow the dance to be given if the entire expenditures do not exceed $400.

Perry asked for permission to re-finish a table which will cost $8, buy a new set of pool balls which will cost less than $15, and a counter case which will cost $10. Perry also asked to be allowed to install a ping-pong table in the Union, the cost of which will be less than $15. This was also sanctioned by the Senate.

President Paige read a report on the financial standing of the 1933 "Ivy", as P. E. Coyle, business manager of the 1933 "Ivy", was unable to be present to give this report. The total deficit of the Annual is $541.90. Uncollected bills on advertisements and group pictures amount, respectively, to $261 and $40. The class of 1935 turned over their treasury of $89.96 to help offset this debt. The bills when collected will reduce the debt to $150.94. A preliminary announcement on the 1934 "Ivy" was given, by Thad Jones for Andrew Onderdonk, business manager of the 1934 "Ivy", who was not able to be present. This report concerned the photography contracts.

After a lengthy discussion, the Senate decided to petition the faculty for permission to give a dance on Saturday evening, November 5. The several fraternities and the Trinity Commons Club are going to be asked to subscribe an amount not over $20 per house, which will be determined after the dance. All neutrals are to be assessed $1 per couple. The dance will be held in Alumni Hall, using the same decorations as the Sophomore Hop, and if possible, the same caterer and orchestra. By reducing expenses in this manner, the dance will be reasonably economical. President Paige asked each Senator to get the opinion of his house on the matter at the earliest date.

The next meeting of the Senate will be held in the lounge of Cook Hall on Monday, October 17, at 7.30 p. m.

TRINITY WINS.

It would be unfair to single out any one particular bright star. Armstrong, with his many long runs and his accurate kicking, backed by the powerful thrusts of Sampers and Brewer, supplied the backfield strength. Maher, Hanaghan, Coyle and Haring were the main bulwarks on the defense. L. Wadlow also played a fine game, both defensively and offensively. For the losers, Beatty, a fast back, and Reitzes, a wingman, showed well. The Aggies were badly outplayed, however, making only one earned first down and failing to complete a single pass.

The lineup:

Trinity	N. Y. Aggies
Fritzon	LE Beye
Haring	LT Leibfred

TRINITY-WETHERSFIELD SOCCER GAME.

The Trinity soccer team met the Wethersfield High School boys in a practice game on Trinity Field last Monday, October 10. The game, a hard-fought one, ended in a tie, 2 to 2, the Trinity eleven making a good showing in spite of the fact that it was their first contest this season. Coach "Gil" Wright feels that they made up for lack of experience by showing a great fighting spirit.

Trinity was the first to score, tallying in the middle of the first period. They did not hold the advantage long, for almost immediately Wethersfield kicked the ball through Trinity's goal. The remaining score was made in the second period. The Trinity goals were kicked by Onderdonk and Burnside.

On October 25, the team will meet Wesleyan at Middletown, and on November 3, Connecticut Aggies at Storrs.

The lineup follows:

Goal,	Warner
Right Fullback.....	Motten
Left Fullback.....	Bell
Right Halfback.....	Muir
Center Halfback.....	McGarvey
Left Halfback.....	Eichacker
Outside Right.....	Irvine
Inside Right.....	Onderdonk
Center Forward.....	Liddell
Outside Left.....	Hall, F.

Goals, Onderdonk, Burnside; substitutions, Burnside for Mowbray, Jones for Muir, Hamer for Eichacker, Lee for Motten, Farnell for Bell; referee, Ohlin; time of quarters, 12 minutes.

Student Becomes Pilot

Fred Burfeindt, a junior here and also a graduate of the Descomb Flying Service, of Brainard Field, Hartford, successfully passed on October 13 his test for a Federal private pilot's license. He was checked out by Mr. H. Harwood, Department of Commerce inspector, who commented favorably on Burfeindt's ability to fly, in view of the fact that it was an exceptionally rough day.

Burfeindt is the first Trinity College student to obtain a Federal Private Pilot's License.
